

How much do braces cost? How about Invisalign?

The cost of orthodontic treatment is determined by the severity of the problems needing to be corrected. It is not possible to know the severity of the problems without having Dr. Jones visit with the patient. Since images of the patient provide significant help, these will often be obtained during your first visit to the office.

We offer a no-fee consultation to learn what problems need to be solved and to find out how much and what type of treatment is needed. The images we obtain (x-ray films, face and teeth photographs) will also be without separate charge. Eventually, impressions will be taken. When it comes time to actually start braces treatment, you will then be paying for those images and impressions...they are included in the cost of treatment.

Please call 256-882-9483 for a no-fee consultation in order to learn more information about the specific problem list, treatment plan and treatment fee.
